Silesian Revolt Adds To Berlin's Foreign Troubles

Polish Uprising Gets More Attention in Germany Than Reparations.

SHORT LIFE FOR CABINET

Germans Believe Nation Will Fare Better by Accepting Allied Terms.

By Carl D. Groat
By United Press Leased Wire
Berlin—Germany Friday prepared to set up a mediocre cabinet for the purpose of accepting the allied reparations terms, meanwhile turning attention of the public to the Polish invasion of Upper Silesia.

The country was in a fever heat over the outbreak in Upper Silesia. As a result of the allied demands and even the rebuilding of the cabinet took second place.

Germany offered her military forces to the entente for service in Upper Silesia after the cabinet decided not to send an expedition there on its own responsibility.

Dr. Gustav Stresemann continued Friday as the chief candidate for the chancellorship with the possibility that Herr Stegwald would assume the foreign affairs portfolio. Little attention was paid the candidates for minor offices in the ministry it being expected that the cabinet's career would end with acceptance of the allied ultimatum.

About Ready to Accept
The belief that Germany will fare better by accepting the ultimatum than by attempting a new effort, appeared to be growing. The old cabinet studied the terms transmitted by Ambassador Shamer Thursday but without issuing a statement, turned its attention to Upper Silesia.

According to reports here the Polish invaders, numbering 20,000 well armed men, have assumed possession of a 20-mile strip along the southern and eastern boundaries of Upper Silesia.

They killed seventy-five entente troops and wounded 150 in the fighting up to Thursday night.

Official representatives reported they had no chance of winning the attack with their small forces. Reports here that the Poles had attacked non-combatants and were requisitioning supplies from the occupied territory aroused the Germans to a fighting temper.

Offer Army to Allies
Military and pan-Germans appeared before the cabinet to urge that the Reichwehr be sent into Silesia immediately. The cabinet after a full day of debate decided against that measure but agreed to offer the service of its troops to the entente.

Two reasons were given for that decision. The first was that independent action might be taken by the allies as a warlike act. The second was that removal of the troops from Germany might encourage the radicals to some outbreak.

The disputed territory was thoroughly disorganized with railway and telegraph service disrupted and business at a standstill.

HARDING'S "COUSIN" DENIES IMPERSONATION
By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Everett A. Harding, who claims he is a cousin of President Harding, charged yesterday with impersonating a government officer, pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Judge K. M. Landis Friday.

Landis set next Wednesday for the trial.

Everett Harding was indicted recently by a federal jury on a charge of posing as assistant secretary to the president. Harding has denied his relationship with Everett.

RETURN TO WORK AS 2 STRIKES ARE SETTLED
By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Two of Chicago's three May day strikes were settled Friday and the men returned to their jobs.

Livestock handlers who walked out Saturday, returned to work Friday after submitting difference with their employers over a cut in wages, to an arbitrator.

Union printers returned to work. Their demand for a forty-four hour week was granted, but they must accept a $4.35 a week wage reduction.

COURT DECISION GIVES $5,000,000 TO INDIAN
By United Press Leased Wire
Tulsa, Okla.—In a decision handed down in the district court here Friday by Judge Owen Owen, the title to every home, street, alley and public franchise in the western Oklahoma Territory addition to the city of Tulsa, conservatively estimated to be worth at least $5,000,000, passed into the hands of Mary Partridge, full blood Creek Indian.

By this ruling, the court disposed of more than 215 property owners of land that in face of prevailing property values alone is worth at least $1,500,000.

There are 39 acres in the addition upon which some of the city's palatial homes have been erected.

The first thing that Mary Partridge is going to buy with her newly acquired riches is a "fine big automobile."

FRANCE READY TO TIGHTEN SCREWS ON GERMAN PEOPLE

Invasion of Ruhr Will Follow Slightest Evasion of Allied Terms.

By United Press Leased Wire
Paris—France Friday began mobilizing a half million soldiers to invade Germany at the slightest evasion of the allied terms.

"If any one of the obligations are evaded in any way we will invade," Premier Briand declared as he went into conference with President Millerand and the cabinet to complete final arrangements to enforce the allied demands.

France already has 132,000 men on the Rhine.

Briand announced that even if Germany accepts the ultimatum, the class of 1919, just called to the colors, will not be demobilized until the young men of the 1921 class have been trained to replace it. The 1921 class went to its training camps two weeks ago.

Under present arrangements a force of 150,000 men will constitute the first army of invasion. If it moves into the Ruhr valley it will take with it 200 tanks, several hundred armored cars and twenty motorized batteries.

Large cavalry forces and engineering troops are held in readiness at Dusseldorf. The strict accounting to be demanded of Germany was shown in this statement by Premier Briand:

"Our ambassador at Berlin has been instructed to notify Germany that she must hand over to us thousands and thousands of rifles and cannon. Certain forts and hundreds and machine guns have not been delivered to us as yet. Germany also must start demobilizing the Bavarian army."

"If she refuses these things, the penalties will be upheld."

"Germany must pay without delay the money due us under the treaty. It is impossible to hesitate."

"There are the facts. If she does not pay we enter the Ruhr."

"If any of the obligations are evaded in any way whatever we shall occupy German territory. It is not words we want, but money. It is not written promises but action that we will judge Germany now."

Idle workers are leaving families unemployed. Number of desertions, officials say.

By United Press Leased Wire
Milwaukee—Unemployment brings about desertion of wives and children and forces them to seek employment, according to Harry Lippart, superintendent of the United States employment office here.

The monthly report of the bureau for April, issued Friday, showed 53 per cent more women placements during April than March and an increase of 100 per cent over April of last year.

"This condition was brought about by a larger number of women and girls applying for casual or any kind of work along domestic lines," Lippart said.

"The most difficult applicants we have to place are the women with children. It seems as if this number is increasing and that there are more desertions during periods of unemployment. Women with one child frequently secure work in country towns, or on farms, but it is not an easy matter to place anyone with two, three or four children and these women are now coming to us."

The report showed no increase of women workers in various industries but that the demand for domestics continues. Industrial conditions have not improved, according to the report, and only a few calls have been received for men in factories.

PROMPT MAILING OF FLOWERS SUGGESTED
Sunday is mother's day, when it is customary for sons or daughters away from home to send flowers and to wear a carnation in the buttonhole in honor of the parent.

Anticipating that the usually large shipments of flowers will be received at the postoffice for mailing, Postmaster Gustave Keller announces a schedule by which delivery in other cities is assured. A special delivery stamp should be attached to the package. Those southbound should be deposited by 3:20 Saturday afternoon as there is no other train out during the evening. Northbound parcels should be mailed by 11 o'clock Saturday evening; for Ashland division points by 5:45 in the afternoon; for Wisconsin and Northern points by 7:50 Saturday morning. Packages mailed later than this schedule will arrive too late for delivery.

BRYAN PUTS HIS O. K. ON KNOX PEACE PLAN
By United Press Leased Wire
Madison—William Jennings Bryan expressed the hope the Knox peace resolution would be enacted by congress in an interview here Thursday night.

"It is not the question as to the best way," said Bryan. "I want the quickest. I favor anything that gets us into cooperation with the rest of the world. We must have peace. If we can't have it, in connection with the treaty, then we should have it separately."

Bryan favored disarmament by agreement with other nations if possible and if not possible, by example. "Blue laws are a matter of personal definition," Bryan said.

"What an American doesn't like, he calls a 'blue law'."

U. S. TO HAVE DELEGATE ON ALLY COUNCIL

Cabinet Discusses Invitation to Send Representative to Europe.

FIRST HAND INFORMATION

Representative at Meetings Will Enable Hughes to Keep in Close Touch.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—An answer to the invitation that the United States participate in the allied councils was understood to have been discussed and tentatively decided upon at the meeting of President Harding and his cabinet Friday.

Cabinet members on coming out of the conference room said that the president might have some announcement to make in the course of the day on this question.

Secretary of State Hughes has an appointment with the president later this afternoon and it was believed that this might be for the purpose of having Harding finally pass upon the reply to the allied invitations.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1921, by Post. Pub. Co.
Washington—The United States government probably will accept the invitation of the allies to send a representative to the meetings of the supreme council. The inclination is to have an unofficial observer present who will be able to act as a means of communication directly between the allies as a group and the United States and at the same time inform the Washington government of exactly what occurs.

The advantages of having an American representative sit in the allied councils appeal to folks here because there are so many questions arising on which the United States government desires to be informed and it is not always possible to conserve American interests when American diplomats must seek verification of important happenings through second hand sources of information.

In view of the indecision here concerning American foreign policy and particularly the extent of American participation in European affairs under the Versailles treaty, any American representative sitting in the meetings of the supreme council would have limited powers. He would be unable to take action without the explicit instruction of the president and secretary of state. The government here may decide to use Ambassador Myron T. Herrick if the meetings are held in France or Ambassador Harvey if they take place in London. It is unlikely that a special envoy would be appointed for the purpose as the meetings of the supreme council are infrequent.

Broadly speaking, the desire of the allies to have America sit with them in determining questions of vital interest to all nations is reciprocally felt here. In other words, the disposition is to look upon the dispatch of a means of consolidating the principal and associated powers into a family council and minimize the chances of friction between the United States and its associates in the war.

There have been reports that the American government would delay sending a representative to the supreme council until the principles involved in the Yap mandate controversy were fully accepted by the allies. Inquiry in responsible quarters brings the information that the United States while deeply interested in the outcome of the Yap controversy feels it advisable to consider the broad interests of the world rather than her own special interests in a particular controversy. In other words, it is felt that a favorable determination of the Yap controversy is actually in process and that the reparation problem is of such vast importance to the economic recovery of the world that America can not afford to insist that the Yap controversy be settled before she assumes her rightful place in the council of nations.

So long as American participation is unofficial and informal, the opponents of cooperation between the United States and the allies will be disarmed but it is of more than passing significance that members of the so-called "irreconcilable" group in the senate are watching with some degree of uneasiness the tendency of the Harding administration to take a broad worldly view of pending problems rather than to follow a strictly nationalistic or isolated policy.

ATTACKS HIS WIFE; SLAIN BY BROTHER

By United Press Leased Wire
Alton, Ill.—Chris Rain, wealthy coal dealer of this city, was arrested Friday charged with murdering his brother, John, as a climax to a family quarrel.

Chris Rain and his wife attended a dance Thursday night. Shortly before midnight Chris choked his wife almost into insensibility on the crowded dance hall floor after the wife had protested attentions which she said her husband was paying another woman.

John Rain, who was at the dance, sought to have his brother arrested for attacking the woman.

At 1 a. m. police received a call from Chris who said he was going to John's home to "get him."

Police rushed to the home but found that Chris had been there before them. John was dead with a bullet wound in his head.

They went to Chris' home. They said they found him in a drunken stupor, lying across a bed, fully dressed, holding a revolver in his hand.

Police named Viola Bishop as the "other woman." They said Mrs. Chris Rain had attacked Viola with a horse-whip recently and on another occasion fired a shot at her while Viola was riding with Chris.

Washington—Senator Borah's fight for a disarmament conference amendment to the navy bill is an effort to express the view of congress on the reduction of taxes and not an attempt to dictate the foreign policy of President Harding, Borah said Friday, in denying reports that his decision to push the amendment marked a split between the senate progressives and the White House.

Borah asserted that he had been assured that President Harding had no objection to a discussion of disarmament by congress, although Harding made it clear to senators who called on him this week that he was opposed to adoption of the Borah proposal at this time.

A canvass of the senate by disarmament advocates showed 12 to 15 republican senators who Borah said were ready to support his amendment. Nearly all of 37 democrats are said to be in favor of it.

If all these vote as indicated, Borah's amendment will get a majority of the senate.

Some of these republican senators however, are being subjected to pressure and will doubtless change their position, Borah believes.

Washington—The nation's women Friday are arraying themselves by the tens of thousands on one side or the other of the controversy which will go into congressional history as the "baby bill battle."

Not for years has any piece of legislation before congress caused such widespread popular reaction as the Sheppard-Towner bill for federal aid to the states in saving the lives of mothers and their infant children, according to senators now working on the measure. Senators are receiving hundreds of letters, mostly from women, on the bill.

The sentiment seems about evenly divided for and against the measure. Women clubs and some civic organizations have endorsed it. Prominent men and women have written their approval of it.

Just as many clubs, and civic societies and just as important public persons have condemned it. Meanwhile the mothers of the country, who don't belong to clubs are writing their views in emphatic language.

The bill which has stirred up so much interest is designed, Senator Sheppard says, to reduce the high rate of mortality of mothers and infant children by instructing prospective mothers in the hygiene of maternity and infancy. This is to be accomplished by cooperation between the states and the federal government. States desiring to cooperate with the federal government and share in the appropriation provided by the bill are to designate some agency to work out an instruction plan. This plan must be approved by the children's bureau at Washington. Its approval entitles the state to a share in annual appropriation of $1,400,000 from the federal treasury.

The women who are for the bill say the instruction will save thousands of lives yearly at small cost principally among people of foreign birth. Its opponents have many arguments, among them being:

That the bill is socialistic and is aimed at destruction of the marriage institution.

That it is an entering wedge in a campaign of "compulsory medicine."

That it is a "pork barrel" bill.

That it will not work because it provides for untrained instructors who know nothing of the scientific or medical side of their subject.

That it is one more attempt to invade the rights of the sovereign states.

NATIONAL BOXING CLUB WILL SUSPEND NEW JERSEY
By United Press Leased Wire
Milwaukee—Action to suspend the New Jersey boxing commission from membership in the National Boxing commission, will be taken by the executive committee of the National association within the near future. Walter H. Linger, president of the commission, announced here Friday.

The action is the result of the New Jersey commission allowing Tex Rickard to charge $50 for seats at the coming Edmopey-Carpenter fight, whereas the national body agreed to a maximum of $15 a seat.

In refusing the commission's assertions that New Jersey was not bound by agreements of the national body, Linger cited minutes of the second session of the national body in New York in January, showing that the late John S. Smith, at that time chairman of the New Jersey commission, headed the list of members who paid dues and asserted that "the national association of boxing was for the prosper."

Montreal, Quebec—"Where the devil did he get that?" Fred Beauvais exploded Friday when shown a copy of the alleged "dearest honey" letter which he is charged with writing to Mrs. James A. Stillman.

Beauvais' face turned scarlet with anger as he read the alleged letter and was informed by the United Press correspondent that it had been published in New York as having been used in the Stillman divorce hearing.

"I never addressed Mrs. Stillman in such terms," the alleged correspondent asserted, after a moment.

"Friendship Night" was observed at the McCombe-Clase meeting in Lawrence Memorial chapel yesterday evening with a program characterized by the usual originality and packed full of interest. The slogan of the evangelistic party, "No two evenings alike" is being fully lived up to. A large delegation of business women, a large section of seats in the center of the auditorium and were greeted by the choir, as they were being seated, with the song, "We're glad you're here, come back again." Mr. Clase gave an appropriate reading, "I have a friend" and later sang, by request, "The Holy City." Much interest was created when people on the platform and in the audience reported some of the friendly deeds that had been done for them. All through the day a few hundred people had been wearing badges that said, "Howdy! I'm your friend" and every one had been seeking to do some good turn for his friends and neighbors.

Dr. McCombe preached a searching and impressive sermon on Deut. II: 19, "And we came to Kadesh-barnea." "Let my people go that they may serve me," he said, "was Moses' cry to Pharaoh, and it might well be the slogan of this campaign." The British government spent $25,000,000 to secure the release of Campbell from Abyssinia. The eternal God has been walking the aisles of this chapel seeking the release of his people from sin. Pharaoh proposed that the Israelites worship their God, but that they stay in Egypt. A subtle temptation has come to people in Appleton to be careful that their religion shall not carry them very far. But you cannot serve God in Egypt. There is enough talent in this congregation to drive the devil out of Appleton and make had people good and good people better. You do not have to be peculiar to be religious. You can serve God on the baseball diamond or in the marts of trade; but you must get out of Egypt.

"When Moses said: 'We are going out,' Pharaoh said, 'Very well, go, but don't go very far.' So some folks say: 'Be religious if you want to, but don't go too far with it. Don't make any public declaration.' That temptation is coming to many people right here. Yield to it and you will make it that much easier for yourself to backslide. What a blessing it would be to our churches if their members would take a forward step that would make it that much harder for them to slip.

"Moses said: 'We are going three days journey.' Pharaoh replied, 'Very well, but leave your little ones with me.' The devil has come to many parents in Appleton and said the same thing. Be it said to the credit of the Roman Catholic church that she will train a child until he is eight years old and any one can have him after that; he will remain a Roman Catholic. But Pharaoh has been caring for some children in this community so long that their parents have no influence over them in matters of religion. There are some things in the Word of God that I do not understand and one is how I could enjoy heaven if any of my family were missing there.

"Pharaoh then said: 'Leave your flocks and your herds.' The devil is perfectly willing that you should be 'religious' if you will continue to be stingy and penurious. But Moses said: 'We are going to take everything that we have that we may sacrifice to the Lord.' For they were going out to crown Jehovah 'King of Kings and Lord of Lords.' And we cannot so crown him unless we take everything that is ours out of Egypt with us."

When Dr. McCombe extended an invitation, in closing the service, a goodly number of people went forward to indicate their dedication or their purpose to begin a Christian life. True to his promises of the past, the evangelist did not bring any

The People's Forum

Let the Good Work Go on!
Editor, Post-Crescent—As one of the members of the Outagamie county board, I consider it my duty to explain my position relative to some of the important questions which came before us during the session just closed.

First, the communications filed and submitted to the Board by the American legion. I wish to say that I endorse and subscribe to every word in it. I have always tried to stand and work for honest administration of public affairs by public officials, and I will go as far as the American legion or anyone else, in bringing public officials who are guilty of misconduct or dishonesty, to account as they will, and I serve notice now that I shall insist that they continue the good work. Let us have a grand jury and investigate further.

Let us see if any members of the county board have drawn public money for committee services and other things. Let us also see if any county officials own an interest and hold stock, and hold offices in manufacturing plants, stone quarries, etc., and have been selling material and other equipment to the county, which is a criminal offense, as I understand the law.

Second, The legion also states that they shall fight for law enforcement, law and order, etc. GOOD.

Up to date I have not heard a single one of the leaders here raise his voice, or even give their moral support to the cases brought here in Circuit Court by my neighbors, John Deml and Mrs. J. M. Black.

The sworn statements of many people residing in different parts of the county, show that in most of these raids, men wearing the uniforms of soldiers and sailors were in the crowd.

John Jackels of Kaukauna, an old man was forced from his home at night and held a prisoner. He testified under oath on the stand in the John Deml case that a soldier sat on guard by his side in the car nearly all night.

Now when the Black case is tried in a few weeks, let us see what the legion will do. Mrs. Black charges that her husband is now in the county insane asylum by reason of the way pressure to bear on his audience, nor was there any unnatural excitement. The service this evening will be featured by the use of two illuminated crosses and it will be known as "The Wayside Cross" service; it is expected to be more imposing and more impressive than any of the Friday night services thus far. Saturday evening the "Cheerful Boosters" will present their second concert.

AH! EPSOM SALTS LIKE LEMONADE

You can now buy ten epsom salts without the awful taste and nausea, by asking your druggist for a dandy package of "Epsomade Salts" which looks and acts exactly like epsom salts, because it is pure epsom salts combined with fruit derivatives salts, giving it the taste of sparkling lemonade.

Take a tablespoonful in a glass of cold water whenever you feel bilious, headachy or constipated. "Epsomade Salts" is the much talked of discovery of the American Epsom Association.

he was treated by these 200 per cent patriotic gentlemen who raided her home in the night time.

In closing, let me say that Mr. Kamp and Louis Peterson are friends of mine. I was on Mr. Peterson's bond, and do not regret having signed it either. They testified under oath, in a many way that they took the money before they had earned it, and refunded it later. They denied nothing, in short admitted that they were guilty of what was charged in the complaint. I could not very well vote for a resolution which stated there was no evidence to show they had done what they were charged of doing, when they admitted it themselves.

Now just a word about the appropriation for roads. This county is now mortgaged to the limit of the law. Our interest runs nearly one hundred twenty five dollars ($125.00) a day. A new resolution providing for approximately one hundred thousand ($100,000.00), came in for road construction in different parts of the country. I tried to show the members of the Board the danger of proceeding in this way at this time. Our county tax last fall was nearly eight hundred thousand dollars. $800,000.00, and if this appropriation carried, it would be approximately one million dollars, ($1,000,000.00), with the farmer backed against the wall and about to be crushed and wiped out.

The workingman in the city is walking the street looking for a job, and the family at home is facing absolute want. If tax payers last winter had a hard time to meet their taxes, it would be nothing compared to what it will be this winter. But when the roll was called, the vote stood thirty-nine, YES and one, NO. This man Ballard is always in a minority.

GIRLS! LEMONS WHITEN SKIN AND BLEACH FRECKLES

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate. adv.

Was a Good Judge of Liquor
"Since a young man I had a liking for liquor and was considered a pretty good judge of it at one time, but constant drinking gave me stomach trouble which became chronic. My stomach would have been a valuable addition to a gas factory. Doctors did not seem to relieve me. One day my druggist got me to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and I am now as good as new." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. — All Druggists. adv.

Waterman Is Soloist At Matinee Musicle Concert

"Land of Heart's Desire" to Be Presented Here Monday Evening.

Carl J. Waterman, dean of Lawrence conservatory of Music, has been secured as soloist for the annual spring concert of the Matinee Musical club, formerly the Women's club chorus, which will be given Monday evening in Peabody hall. The club will sing "The Land of Heart's Desire" by Ethelbert Nevin, a cantata for tenor solo and three-part chorus, and two groups of attractive choruses. Solo parts in the choruses will be taken by Mrs. Carl Waterman and Mrs. Bert Dutcher. Miss Ruth Schumaker, violinist, will play two numbers and Miss Cordell Freiberg of New London, will give a group of readings. The concert will be presented under the direction of Frank Taber, Jr., of the faculty of Lawrence Conservatory of Music.

The personnel of the club is as follows:
First soprano—Mesdames F. S. Aylesworth, F. P. Doherty, B. S. Dutcher, F. J. Edmonds, H. P. Heckert, F. W. Johnson, J. W. HAD TO FIGHT TO GET HIS BREATH

Grand Rapids Man Had Awful Smothering Spell—Tanlac Ends His Troubles

"My own experience has convinced me that when it comes to medicines Tanlac stands above everything," said Newton L. Near, of 910 Genette Ave., Grand Rapids, Mich., a well-known employee of the Hayes-Ionia Co.

"I was in a bad way and had been going down hill for over a year," he continued. "My stomach gave me so much trouble that I had to be particular about everything I ate, and even then I would bloat all up with gas, have awful smothering spells and got so short of breath I just had to fight for air. I was so weak I could hardly work and was going down in weight right along. My sleep was all broken up and in the morning I always felt no-account and fagged out. But that's not the case now. From the way I feel I can't tell I ever had anything the matter with me. I eat three rousing meals a day and never have any bad effects. I don't get short of breath any more and I sleep good and sound; in fact, I don't know when I ever felt better than I do right now. I give Tanlac full credit for my good health today."

Leonard Peabody Tells Of China Famine Scenes

Hundreds of Persons in One Province Are Dying Because They Cannot Eat.

First hand description of appalling scenes in famine devastated China is presented in a letter from Leonard C. Peabody, who is teaching in a missionary college and academy in Shan-ai province, China, to his parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Peabody, Lawrence, St. Mr. Peabody spent some time in investigating famine conditions and his letter is extremely interesting, not only for the information it conveys, but also because of its intense human interest. The school is supported by Oberlin college of Ohio, from which Mr. Peabody has graduated.

His letter follows: "One way in which I came in contact with the life of the Chinese people themselves during my vacation, was in doing some famine investigation work both near Taihu here, and in a village outside of Peking in Chihli Province. I'm sure that I never saw life so very near the 'dead line' as I did in some of the 'holes' which we visited in our investigation. Family after family with no fuel, no bedding, scant clothing, little and sometimes nothing to eat, all in the middle of winter. It was the hardest possible thing to have to walk from one house to another, obtaining data, and not being able to give them any help at once. I recall one woman especially, with a little cotton garment—ragged at that—over her shoulders, living in a cold, damp, dark, mud hut, with no fuel—a few very bitter seeds off a tree in the vicinity to eat—and in spite of it all cheerful, and trying to laugh away our concern for her. We asked them about tomorrow and they say 'If something comes, all right; if nothing comes—well, all right, too.' Why in America, we'd all turn back-sherks and bandits under far less provocation than theirs. One destitute family had a little pot of this, with the prickles actually on them—a quarter of an inch long—which was to serve as their supper for that night; incidentally they hadn't had any breakfast so were pretty hungry.

"Conditions in the village I investigated here in Shanai didn't seem on the whole quite as bad as those in Chihli, though there were some individual cases which were just as serious. Though the reports of the investigation are not all in yet, there are alarming figures under such heads as: children sold, children given away, children deserted, families broken up, suicides and deaths due to famine conditions. The committees on relief, however, are handling the situation very well considering the funds they have to work with. Funds are coming in most generously too from America, so that the situation is not hopeless by a good deal. Cooperation between the relief committee and the Magistrate of Taihu, is making the work in this part of Shanai very effective. Grain is being distributed at present, though the completion of the distribution much more all-inclusive. Some of the students of our academy here have been rendering a fine service over vacation, by remaining here to help day after day in work among the surrounding villages. Here are some statistics on a group of 30 villages which have already been investigated:

Starved to death, 21; death by cold, 19; death due to both, 11; girls sold, 19; children deserted, 7; families turned beggars, 8; husband and wife separated, 23; without clothing, 131; without bedding, 275; without fuel, 211; houses wrecked, 34; suicides due to famine, 8.

"The figures as to the number now actually dependent upon support—that is, those in the most destitute condition—in the county of which Taihu is the capital, amount to 11,508.

"Another opportunity which the vacation offered, and which I had been hoping for ever since I arrived, was the chance to visit several of my students in their homes. The first week I put in this way. I had the time of my life, eating their Chinese chow with chopsticks, sleeping on their brick k'angs, a combined stove, bed and table, talking as much as my limited vocabulary would allow with their families, and learning their conditions and customs of life. Perhaps in some previous incarnation I may have been a Chinese, for I take to them very enthusiastically. It is of course very different from anything occidental, and many of their customs show a superstition and a narrowness which holds them down to a rather low level, and which must be eradicated from their life. Living in close contact with them though teaches one that they are thoroughly human, however, and a more courteous and hospitable people I have never known. Shang Whai Jon's home was the poorest I visited in respect of money, though the richest in the numbers in the family, and certainly not lacking in their royal welcome to me.

The opposite extreme in the scale of Chinese life, financially, was in my two days' stay at the home of Wu Chung Yao. Chung Yao is a young fellow just 13 years old, but with everything that one could possibly want (if he were a Chinese) including a wife and little son. The Chinese apparently don't know how to spend their money though for comforts. Chung Yao's room is just as uncomfortable as far as the hard bed, the stone floor, the gassey Kang fire, and the lack of comfortable chairs go, though he has costly pottery, six imported foreign clocks, (all going) and an electric fan at the head of his bed in spite of the fact that there is no electricity with a hundred miles in which it could be run.

"Not the least important feature of my vacation has been a little Oberlin class reunion of the Class of 1920. True that only two members of the class were able to be present; but we had the opportunity of 'doing Peking' for three weeks, and it was a wonderful experience. Bob Shaw, famous in Oberlin as former commander and director of the Volunteer band, has charge of the English work in Tungshien-Jefferson Academy, just 12 miles outside of Peking and it was like the old M. F. days to be together at the home of his brother, Rev. E. T. Shaw. I never visited any city that had such a grip on one, such a fascination. Tientsin and Shanghai, with their street-cars and many automobiles, have lost a great deal of their oriental atmosphere, and are really international cities. Peking, however, with its long camel-trains, ambling down the busiest streets, and its mule-litters carrying gaudily dressed Mandarin or Manchu women, it thousands of street-vendors each with his particular call or horn, or gong, and its innumerable ragged beggars who follow your rickshaw for blocks pitifully wailing 'Hsien Sheng, Hsien Sheng,' is thoroughly Chinese. Peking is beyond description—one must hear the bedlam of noises, smell the all too present smells (hardly as fascinating) and see the life of the scuffling masses from the ragged pig-tailed rickshaw runner to the wealthy official, unnatural in his foreign clothes, and riding in his foreign fashioned hack. Over such oriental surroundings, it seemed certainly bizarre to have four large biplanes hovering over the city on New Year's day, bombarding the city with paper

LAWRENCE COEDS LEAD IN STUDIES

Girls' Scholarship Standings Average Much Better Than Those of the Men

Epsilon Alpha Phi sorority with an average grade of 85.11 per cent, lead all the sororities of Lawrence college in the annual race for scholarship prizes. This is the second year this sorority has won the cup and if it wins it next year, the trophy will remain in its possession. Phi Kappa Tau fraternity leads the men Greek letter societies with an average grade of 81.77. Other sororities receiving honorable mention are Alpha Gamma Phi ranking second with an average of 84.45; Kappa Delta with 84.24 and Phi Mu. Sigma Chi Epsilon fraternity, which has taken the honors for the last six years, ranks second this year with an average of 81.17. Phi Kappa Alpha is third with 80.57 and Beta Sigma Phi is fourth.

The total averages for all sorority and all non-sorority women are 84.6 while the average for the fraternity men is 80.69 and non-fraternity men, 77.9. The seniors have an average of 85.39, the highest of the classes.

bearing the Chinese characters Hsien Hsi (Happy New Year), and doing loop-the-loops over the Forbidden city and the Temple of Heaven, the Chinese Holy of Holies.

"On New Year's Day, February 8th, we went out to the Tung Yueh Miao (East Moon Temple) where we could see the Chinese worshipping their mud Gods. It was comical to see them bumping their heads on the stone floor three times before each one, going from one to another of the hideous figures, while the priests beat a mournful time on deep bells placed beside each God to keep him awake. A little donation of burning punk too seemed to give one a little additional pull with the gods, because they were throwing a couple of sticks into the sacrificial vessel in front of each. One of the most interesting parts of the worship took place in one of the little back rooms where there was a bronze horse. If anyone had an ailment in any part of his body, he need only to rub the horse in the corresponding place to be cured; and there were crowds of Chinese waiting around for their turn. We could see where half of the horse's eyes had been rubbed away. The impressive thing about the worship was to see the scuffling thousands of them all intent on their worshipping, and very serious in all the ridiculous things they did. If they can show such sincerity and devotion to mud gods, they ought to make good Christians."

AMATEUR RADIOISTS TAKE EXAMINATIONS

Amateur wireless operators of the Appleton Y Radio club were given examinations in the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening by Iner Erickson, instructor, by which they will be awarded certificates of classification. Each operator will be classed as first, second or third grade according to the result of the tests.

Certificates awarded will assist the boys in obtaining positions should they desire to engage in this work. Among the subjects taken up were laws governing radio communication, ability to receive code, ten "Q" signals, three types of ainals, detectors and other equipment.

Next Wednesday evening the club will hold its last meeting of the season. Plans will be formulated for an early start next fall.

The Misses Mabel and Leona Fisher and Mrs. Elmer Graef of Hortonsville were Appleton callers Tuesday.

Miss Tena Ruch of Hortonsville was a guest of Appleton friends Tuesday.

Mayor J. A. Hawes was a Madison visitor Thursday.

TAG DAY AT COLLEGE FOR MAY DAY FUNDS

Thursday was named "tag day" for May day at Lawrence college and all the students were wearing little tags announcing that they were saving May 20 as a May fete date. Money from the tags and all of the May Day activities is to be turned over to the Geneva committees of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. to help send Lawrence students to the conferences at the "Y" camp there. The May day activities are in the hands of the Tau Tau Kappa fraternity.

HARDING AND LODGE IN COLLISION

Either President Harding or Senator Lodge will find it necessary to reverse itself on the question of a separate peace with Germany. The president and the chairman of the foreign relations committee are in direct conflict on this policy. It is nothing less, as one observer puts it, than a head-on collision.

In the course of the debate on the passage by the senate of the Knox resolution repealing the declaration of war, Mr. Lodge made the statement that "if we choose to make peace with Germany by a treaty, which will probably follow this resolution, surely we are not betraying" our associates in the war, who "did not ask our leave when they made peace," but did so "without our consent." Dismissing this further affront to our associates in the war, which if we have not already betrayed we seem to have deserted, we find Mr. Lodge serving notice to the country that a separate treaty of peace with Germany is necessary, for the reason, as he stated, that after dissecting out the covenant of the League of Nations, and making as he estimates, some seventy-two amendments, "very little of the treaty of Versailles would remain," hence, the separate negotiations "which will probably follow this resolution."

When Mr. Lodge made these statements less than three weeks had elapsed since President Harding in his address to congress said: "It would be idle to declare for separate treaties of peace with the central powers on the assumption that these alone would be adequate, because the situation is so involved that our peace engagements cannot ignore the Old world relationship and the settlements already effected, nor is it desirable to do so in preserving our own rights and contracting our future relationships."

Mr. Lodge, determined to bury once and for all the treaty of Versailles which in his opinion is so dead as to require funeral services, is in further conflict with the president in his (Lodge's) contention that there is nothing worth saving in the treaty. Mr. Harding was quite explicit on this point in his address to congress, only eighteen days before, saying: "The wiser course would seem to be the acceptance of the confirmation of our rights and interests as already provided and to engage under the existing treaty, assuming, of course, that this can be satisfactorily accomplished by such explicit reservations and modifications as will secure our absolute freedom from inadvisable commitments and safeguard all our essential interests."

Such lack of accord between the president and the Republican leader of the senate would seem to be due to one of two reasons, either disagreement as to policy or lack of any definite policy either in the senate or the White house. Being the most vital problem in foreign affairs that the administration will have to deal with, and inasmuch as the men who are to make the final decision have had it before them for the last year and a half for consideration, there would seem to be no excuse for lack of understanding, or clear disagreement, as the case might be. Possibly it is evidence of the senate's determination to control the peace policies of the government, possibly it is due to the lack of definite purpose or program by the executive. Whatever the facts, it places the administration in an embarrassing position and makes a consistent course difficult if not impossible.

MOTHER'S DAY

That must be a remote district or a selfish heart which pays no heed to Mother's Day.

Mother's Day offers the opportunity to let the mother know she is beloved, instead of just having to take it for granted, as she does on most days. Fortune are the sons and daughters whose mothers are living and may receive before it is too late the tributes which other sons and daughters long to pay to mothers who are gone.

Even if the mother be gone the day still can be given to her through kindly courtesies to other mothers, or the sending in her name to the sick or sorrowful the gifts one would like to send her.

Then there are memories. Every one is better off and happier just for thinking about his mother; and who knows how many of those thoughts go straight to her, although she makes no sign?

"We wake," said the dear old sleepers in Bluebird, "whenever you think of us." Who would deny the sleeping mother such tender awakening? Who would deny himself the privilege of such thoughts and memories as, for a day at least, shall make him more nearly the self his mother firmly believed him to be?

A SIGNIFICANT STAND

There is more than ordinary significance in the voluntary and frank support Italy gives the United States in the position it has taken on the Yap mandate. It is not many months since Italy was severely disappointed, if not provoked, by this country's opposition to its desire relating to Fiume. Considerable history has been made since that time and without doubt Italy now realizes that her demands concerning Fiume were untenable. Whatever her conclusions were at that time there appears to be only the best of feeling toward the United States today.

In making her choice with the United States as against the allies and Japan on the disposition of Yap, Italy perhaps stood to weaken her relations with some of her war associates. However, the indications are that she will not make any sacrifices of this kind, for it is probable that her action will have an important effect upon both France and Great Britain. French sentiment is known to be friendly to American claims in the Pacific, and Great Britain, while professing a neutral attitude, is not likely to decide against this country.

The step taken by Italy should, therefore, serve as an entering wedge to force the concession demanded of Japan. When it comes to a final showdown it is not improbable that France and Great Britain will openly approve the Italian view and take their position squarely with the United States.

Furthermore, the opposition which is developing in the British empire to a renewal of the Japanese alliance under conditions which might militate against the United States in case of war between this country and Japan is likely to have a restraining effect upon Japanese aggression. Left to her own resources Japan should find it convenient to reach an amicable agreement with this country on immigration, disarmament and rights in the Pacific.

EMBARGO ON FOREIGNERS

Progress on the immigration restriction measure, in congress is slow. The senate committee on immigration has reported the house measure favorably after eliminating the provision making an exception to the three per cent restriction rule for minors and religious refugees—an unhappy but necessary change. The committee adopted an amendment which provides that the time when the measure becomes effective shall be left for later settlement. Ultimately the bill will come to the senate for action. Meanwhile the undesirable continue to pour in at a rate that makes adequate inspection or protection impossible.

It is unfortunate that delays prevent the passage of the bill, unless a more stringent one can be devised. It is also unfortunate that the date upon which the measure is to become effective should be left to an indefinite future. The plain-spoken citizen wants to know why the government puts an embargo on undesirable plants and animals and admits undesirable human beings. It looks as though congress were playing politics with the immigration question.

VITAMINS AND FOOD FALLACIES

Scurvy is a mystery to the laity because the fully developed disease is not commonly seen in this country, though mild forms of scurvy are perhaps much more common than people in general are aware. The fully developed disease, in infants or adults, is characterized by bleeding from the gums, swollen gums, foul breath, bleeding from the skin or mucous membranes from slight or no local cause (discoloration of the "black and blue" kind, sometimes wrongly ascribed to blows or abuse), pale complexion, a painful gait or pains in the legs, sometimes mistaken for "rheumatism" or "paralysis." But this full-fledged scurvy is not the ordinary every-day scurvy, which is too easily overlooked or unrecognized. The more common form is not so clearly manifested; there is lack of physical and mental vigor, vague pains usually lightly ascribed to "rheumatism" (although there is no such disease or condition as "rheumatism"), lack of appetite, in infants a noticeably pale or muddy complexion and stationary weight and gradual disposition. The scorbutic nature of this condition in infants has been proved in innumerable cases by the prompt improvement and recovery of such infants after some anti-scorbutic substance has been added to the diet, such as orange juice, tomato juice, fresh cooked vegetable pulp strained through a sieve, or pure fresh raw milk.

It is a fallacy to assume that foods which contain vitamins when fresh lose their vitamins in the process of canning. Many canned foods are innocent of vitamins, but canned foods of an acid nature, such as pineapple, tomato, rhubarb and berries, may retain most or all of their vitamins for many months.

Pasteurization more completely destroys the vitamins of fresh milk than does boiling for a few minutes, because the heat of twenty minutes or thirty minutes of heating at 145 F. induces some change which five minutes or less of heating at 212 F. does not produce—it has been found that such short boiling does not impair the anti-scorbutic value of fresh milk, whereas pasteurization does.

Dried or powdered milk, prepared by subjecting the milk to a temperature of 230 F. for a few seconds, has been found to retain much of its anti-scorbutic value. Dr. Hess found anti-scorbutic vitamin was retained even by sweetened condensed milk when the milk was zealously protected from the air in the course of the condensing process, and he suggests that oxidation by the air accounts for the loss of vitamins in various cooking and canning processes. He cites the reports of Varot and other good observers who have insisted that sterilized milk does not cause scurvy—the milk was sterilized in hermetically sealed bottles, thus preventing oxidation by the air.

Home canning processes commonly do not exclude the oxidation factor; nor do all factory canning processes.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Victim of Braces

When I was fifteen years old my mother made me wear shoulder braces because I slumped so. I wore them several years. The result was far from what we hoped for. They made me more round shouldered than ever. (D. M.)

ANSWER—Braces, splints or supports of any kind should never be worn except by advice and under the personal supervision of your own physician. A great harm is done by such ill-advised resort to surgical appliances. It should be clearly understood that a brace, splint or cast never strengthens weak or undeveloped muscles, and often makes the defective muscles weaker by preventing their proper functioning.

Great Grandfathers!

I am going with a young man whose great grandfather was a first cousin to my great grandfather. Is this too close a relationship for the best interests of our marriage? (D. G. D.)

ANSWER—Yes. It is better to bring in new blood.

A GOOD TIP FROM GARY

The United States Steel Corporation owns $110,000,000 worth of government bonds. Chairman Gary of the corporation says that they not only will be sold now at a loss of about 10 per cent which would have to be taken, but that they will be held until "we get as much as they cost, or possibly a little more."

There isn't the shadow of a doubt that some day these bonds, like all the other bonds of the government, will be worth 100 cents on the dollar. Probably some of the issues will go to a premium before maturity. The millions of holders of small amounts of these bonds, who bought them through patriotic motives, should not part with them at the present depreciated market value, unless they are absolutely forced to do so, by sheer necessity.

Whatever one's opinion of the business ethics of Gary and his fellow Steel Corporation managers, there can be no question as to their financial shrewdness.

If government bonds are good enough for them to hold, they are good enough for the man and woman of small means to hold.

In these days of uncertain values, those promises to pay (Uncle Sam's) whatever their present market value, contain an element of certainty as to the future, which no other form of investment in the world even approaches.

Disarming A Nation

By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington, D. C. — A measure which would make it difficult for any citizen of the United States to obtain a revolver or pistol without breaking the law is now proposed by Senator Shields of Tennessee as a remedy for the crime wave.

Haskin

It is agreed by all that something must be done. The country is overrun by armed thugs who shoot down a few hundred citizens every day, take their cash and jewelry, and escape in four thousand dollar cars which they have stolen from other citizens without much trouble.

Senator Shields believes that the way to remedy this situation is to make it as difficult as possible for any one to obtain a revolver, pistol or other firearm small enough to be concealed about the person, and he has introduced a bill which is to accomplish this by barring such arms from interstate commerce. The stated purpose of the bill is to "suppress the sale of pistols, revolvers," etc.—that is, to make it as difficult as possible for any one, criminal or otherwise—to obtain such an arm.

This bill has provoked sharp discussion. Many legislators favor it. On the other hand, students of the crime problem say that it will be wholly ineffective. Some critics of the measure say that it is typical of a whole school of legislation in this country, designed to suppress vice and crime, and which has the opposite effect.

Senator Shields says that his measure is modeled after the prohibition law. Prohibition, he says, was ineffective as a state or local measure as long as liquor could be manufactured in neighboring states and shipped into dry territory. In like manner, he says, the efforts of police to control the sale of firearms in a given city are futile so long as any criminal can send away and get a revolver by mail or express.

His opponents say that his whole theory is unsound. They agree with him that his law is of exactly the same type as the prohibition law, and they assert that, while prohibition has reduced the consumption of alcohol, which may be a good thing, it has not prevented any man who really wants alcohol from getting it. He can get it from bootleggers. Furthermore, here in Washington, one of the most orderly of cities, he can buy a slightly medicated port wine containing 18 per cent of alcohol at many small stores, and he can buy all the materials for making home brew at several places, together with all directions for the making. The effect of this law, they contend, has been to restrict the consumption by making it inconvenient to obtain alcoholic beverages, but it is not made it impossible for the man with an abnormal alcoholic thirst to satisfy it.

Will Not Affect Criminals

In like manner, they say, the gun-prohibition law will greatly reduce the number of persons owning weapons by making it difficult to obtain them, but it will never prevent the man who really needs one from getting it. There will inevitably be bootlegging in guns just as there is now bootlegging in whisky. A whole new class of criminals who engage in this traffic will be created, just as liquor prohibition has created a class of criminals. And the taxpayer will be saddled with another burden of expense in the effort to enforce this law. It will disarm the peaceable citizen, but it will never prevent the criminal, who needs the gun in his business, from getting one. He is used to getting things by theft and craft. He is well acquainted in the underworld. He will get a gun under gun prohibition just as easily as he gets liquor under liquor prohibition. The law-abiding citizen will be disarmed by such legislation, but not the professional gunman.

Take, for example, they say, a group of 100 citizens. Perhaps 50 or more of these never thought of owning a gun. Perhaps about 30 of them have purchased guns which they keep in bureau drawers for personal protection. Many a burglar and highwayman has been foiled by an armed citizen. The keeping of arms in the house for self-protection is a recognized and valuable aid in the suppression of crime. If there were a loaded revolver in every bed room in the country, with a person who had been properly trained in the use of it, burglary would be greatly discouraged.

In this 100 men there are perhaps 10 who own revolvers as means of recreation. They are members of target-shooting clubs which encourage civilian practice with small arms, or they are men who make camping trips in wild country and carry side arms with them.

How It Would Work

Not more than three, probably, of this 100 men are criminals. Now the effect of a law like the Shields bill, say its opponents, is to disarm this entire 100 men in the hope of disarming the three criminal members. The 30 who would otherwise buy revolvers for self-defense will be discouraged from doing so by the expense and risk of prosecution. Then men who use their weapons as means of recreation, and who are valuable for their skill in case of war, will be more reluctant to give up, but they too are law-abiding men and do not like to follow a hobby which involves contempt of law.

The only men of the hundred who will be completely and gladly disarmed are the three criminals. They habitually disregard law anyway. They are experts in breaking it. Their lives depend upon the ownership of guns. It is almost certain that they will succeed in obtaining them. And they will be the bolder in the use of them by reason of knowing that their intended victims have been disarmed.

These men argue that the way to prevent the abuse of any privilege or right is not to take it away from everybody, but to take it away from the man who abuses it—not to deprive the 97 law-abiding citizens of their rights, but to make it not for the three crooks.

This is not being done, they say. Our police systems have come in for so much criticism lately that it is hardly necessary to repeat any of it. Unwieldy murder and theft mysteries are the order of the day. Our criminal law is a notorious farce. The statement is made by high authorities that a man is seldom convicted of murder in this country if he has plenty of money or a political pull. The way to stop murder is to catch and punish the murderers, and to catch and punish the murderers is to catch and disarm the criminals as to the way to disarm criminals away from them and make their opponents of the prohibitory principle.

If there is to be any Federal legislation bearing on the crime wave, these men say, it should have for its purpose the creation of a Federal police bureau. This is badly needed to act as a clearing house for information about criminals, to raise the standards of police work in America and to study European police methods with a view to introducing them in this country.

THE QUESTION BOX

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to legal, medical, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. How many bills were presented to the last Congress and how many were passed? J. P. H.

A. Nearly 16,000 bills were presented to the sixty-sixth Congress, of which 280 became laws.

Q. What percentage of the dead soldiers will be brought home? M. E. M.

A. Of the deceased soldiers about 40 per cent. It is estimated will be permanently overseas, and 60 per cent will be brought home at the request of relatives.

Q. Is tobacco good to keep moths away? M. E. R.

A. Tobacco, camphor, naphthalene, cedar and tar are all repellants for moths, and are of value if the garments are put away entirely free from moths and moth eggs.

Q. What are the possibilities of a person holding a Yarrowburgh? H. E. T.

A. A Yarrowburgh is a hand at which contains no card higher than a nine-spot. The odds against one holding this hand are 1327 to 1.

Q. How many motor cars are licensed yearly in the United States? A. A.

A. A total of 9,211,295 motor cars were registered last year in this country. The fees collected for registration and license for cars, chauffeurs, operators and dealers amounted to more than $100,000,000.

Q. Why are turkeys so-called? And how did guinea fowls get their name? T. H. H.

A. Turkeys were so named because it was believed that they were native to Turkey. Their original home was North America. The guinea fowl was a native of the West coast of Africa as its name implies.

Q. How does the number of immigrants admitted in 1914 compare with the figures of 1920? R. S. K.

A. There were in 1914, 1,218,480 immigrants admitted to the United States, and in 1920 there were 400,000 immigrants admitted.

Like the Minister at the Double Wedding

—we have simply put two and two together!

One afternoon at the start of this season we went into our private office—locked the door and took account of things in general. Said we to ourselves—"Young man, your thousands of customers are going to expect great things from you this season. These men know where the prices have dropped to and they are going to look to you to see what you are going to do about it." We foresaw the demand for lower prices and greater values and then we simply put two and two together and resolved to meet your wishes in a way that would do us proud for years to come.

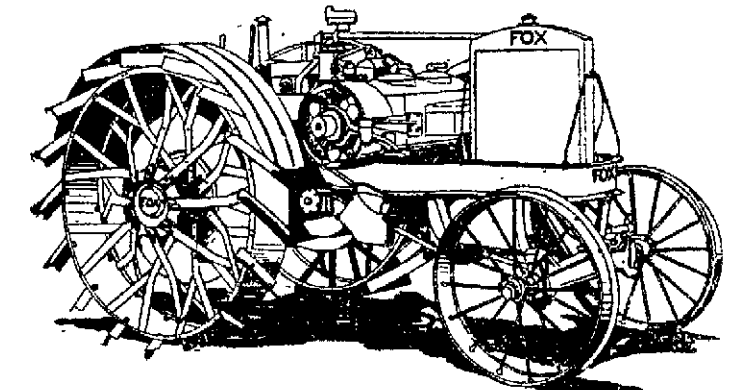

That, people is the reason for our values today. That, folks, is the reason why this store will be crowded all day tomorrow.

Business Women's Supper
About 200 business and professional women of Appleton attended the third of the business and professional women's suppers Thursday evening in First Methodist church. Miss McNeil of the high school faculty read a clever little sketch of child life entitled "Whose Fault?" Mrs. H. K. Truitt sang two selections, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Murphy.
A group of college girls played and sang during the supper hour and different tables sang or gave yells before the program. As a special feature of this supper Mrs. A. L. Roberts invited the girls to put questions on social problems in a question box which she provided. A number of these questions were answered by Mrs. Roberts and those that were left over will be answered Sunday afternoon at the meeting for women in First Methodist church.
Crown May Queen
Final preparations are being made for the community spring dancing party which will be given Friday evening in Armory G by the recreation department of Appleton Women's club. The feature of the party will be the crowning of Miss Margaret Schaefer as queen of the May. A throne has been erected in the northeast corner of the armory upon which the queen will be seated. During the intermission the May pole dance will be given in her honor.
Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Starkey, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Neller and Mr. and Mrs. George Wettengel will be hostesses at this party.

Entertains For Miss Harper
Mrs. Charles Reinbeck, 637 Oneida-st., and Mrs. W. H. Dean entertained a number of ladies Thursday evening at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Ruth Harper at the home of Mrs. Reinbeck. A short program was given in which Miss Rennie Struck sang "Spring Has Come" and Mrs. S. W. Murphy sang "Will O' the Wisp." Miss Esther Struck gave a reading, "The Rose and the Nightingale."
Decorations were in pink and white. A dainty lunch was served.

Wedding Anniversary
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gerrits of Little Chute celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary Thursday afternoon and evening. Dancing and cards furnished entertainment, prizes at schafkopf going to John Vandenberg and Mrs. E. G. Gansen and to Mrs. James Gerrits at rummy.
Dinner was served to about 70 guests. Among those from out of town were Charles Jensen, Niagara; Edward Jensen, Sheboygan, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dittmer and son, Oshkosh.

Miscellaneous Shower
Twelve friends of Miss Ann Dominisky pleasantly surprised her with a miscellaneous shower Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. A. Tock, 647 Spring-st. The guests were Mesdames G. Wagner, A. Tock, R. Haase, David Peavel, Floren Moosin and the Misses Emma Knoll, Martha Koepsel, Margaret Schalk, Ophelia Schmicko, Olga Rohloff and Leona Dominisky. Lunch was served.

AUTO ENDANGERED WHEN BARN ROOF TAKES FIRE

Fire broke out at noon on the roof of a small barn in the alley at the rear of stores on the north side of College-ave., near State-st., but did little damage. The building was owned by Peter Sauter and contained an automobile owned by Simon VanGorp. Mr. VanGorp removed the car before it was damaged. The origin of the fire is not known but is thought to have been caused by sparks. A portion of the barn roof was burned, but the department's quick work prevented the blaze from making much progress.

Mrs. L. A. Youtz, 463 South-st., entertained the P. E. O. Sisterhood Friday afternoon.

Miss Regina King and Miss Esther Ashman as close contestants. Voting has been in progress for the last two weeks among members of the recreational department of the club and the ballots were counted Thursday.

Miss Schaefer's election is a recognition of her loyal service to the recreation department, of which she is the treasurer. Miss Schaefer has figured prominently in the season's activities and won the appreciation of many of the young women through her interest in the recreation program.

Miss King and Miss Ashman also have been among the most active of the recreation department's members. The former is advertising manager of the Women's club bulletin.

60 VALLEY DOCTORS AT MEETING HERE LAST NIGHT

About 60 doctors from the Fox River valley attended the dinner and meeting of the Outagamie Medical association Thursday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Dr. Dean Lewis of Chicago gave the address of the evening on "Tumors of the Breast," illustrating his lecture with lantern slides. Among the guests were Dr. Hunter of Tacoma, Wash., and Dr. Landsey of Kellogg, Idaho. Guests were present from Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Neenah and Green Bay.

Adventures of the Twins

Olive Roberts Barton

"The Palm-Tree Hotel"
Away went Nancy and Nick and Mr. Flippety-Flap, to the Island of Farthest-Ever to hunt up the Monkey Family.
The Green Shoes that the twins wore were heading straight for the ocean, which it is necessary to cross before you come to this particular place. That's one peculiar thing about any island, indeed, that you may have noticed. You always have to cross water before you come to it. You simply cannot reach it by land, even the back way.

But just before they left the shore, Flippety-Flap stopped suddenly. "Tut!" cried he. "Not tut you but tut me, children. It's my fault! I forgot! We've gotta go to China first."

ATTENTION!
The Master Builders Association of Appleton has reduced its prices on all work to be done after May 9th and will charge for carpenter work on the basis of a 75c per hour wage scale.

Then they started for the Island of Farthest-Ever and got in the back way and hunted up the Coconut-Palm-Tree Hotel.
By this time it was evening, but bright moonlight, so they had no trouble at all in locating the place. The Coconut-Palm-Tree Hotel was a queer sort of a house to live in, mostly top, like a telephone pole. The first, second, third and fourth stories were just stories—nothing more. But the fifth story consisted of large branches and leaves branching out like great fans. On one large limb sat two monkeys, outlined plainly against the moon.
"There they are," whispered Nancy. (To Be Continued)

THE BOOK OF MARTHA
Ann Publishes a Song

Ann might shortly be a widow! I dared not whisper my horrid fear to Bob, but in consequence of it, I longed above all things to keep dear Jimmy-boy from doubting the wisdom of his marriage. If Jim lived, he could work out his own domestic difficulties like other people. But if he were doomed to die, he must never guess that the pretty girl he had married was less innocent and less lovable than he had pictured her.

"Ann is creating a scandal—all she needs is time!" I remarked to Bob. "But perversely is her middle name, so there's no sense in trying to keep her away from Van!"
"Then perhaps you'd better try to take Van away from her!" drawled Bob with an indescribable minor twang in his voice.

"I could do it!" I replied defiantly. "I used to fancy that Bob is the most masterful man in the world and I liked to be ruled by him, but lately I have discovered that Bob is a wee bit neurotic, though he is none the less adorable when he is nice. However, a neurotic is invariably a tyrant. My husband's tyranny I can endure when he tempers it with devotion, but when he criticizes me unjustly or implies that I am not the very pattern of a perfect wife, I get stubborn. Therefore I boasted a bit, just to tease him, when I said:
"Of course I could snatch Van from Ann. And I could spoil his new game with Martha—if I wanted to!"
Thus, once more, I planted a fast growing weed in my garden of Eden! Immediately, I realized my error, and I flew to Bob and hugged him hard, and kissed my pet swirl of hair on the crown of his head, and pressed my cheek against him, and realized that Bob was sullen, in spite of my coquetry, and that I wasn't even cracking the tough shell of his mood!

"Better flirt with Van, then!" Bob returned to his newspaper.

"Maybe I will!" Silence enveloped us both like a fog. Finally I had to break it myself. I changed the subject:
"Ann has sold her song!"

ASKS STATE FOR AID FOR HOME FOR NAMELESS BABES

Special to Post-Crescent

Madison, Wis.—If it is determined that the legislature has the authority to appropriate money as aid to a corporation the Martha Washington Home at Wauwatosa, may receive state aid to the extent of $5,000 annually for the care of homeless, friendless and unfortunate girls.

At the hearing Thursday afternoon on the Jennings bill, No. 352 S., before the finance committee Mrs. Kurtz who established the Martha Washington Home a quarter of a century ago, gave an outline of the truly wonderful humanitarian work that is and has been accomplished for the unmarried mothers of the state. She presented statistics showing that thirty-five nationalities have been represented among the girls cared for in the institution, coming from four fifths of the counties in the state. She said the institution had never lost a single mother and not a single baby had been lost in the last five years.

"We have capacity for 35 girls," she said. "At the present time, or when I left there on Wednesday we had 32 including one girl 13 year of age and another just 14, soon to become a mother. Ten babies were born in the home last month."

These prices sound mighty good when you recall the feature price of last year. But, better still, fabrics are finer, richer, more beautiful than any time since the war. Men, by scores, are buying 'em on sight—you ought to see 'em—see the significant new style changes—see the rich, new textures, see the exclusive new herringbones, pin stripes, checks, plaids, etc., the beautiful new spring colors, see the new value-buying power of the money you spend. These features are especially prominent this season because we started with an absolutely clean slate—all 1921 merchandise—of 1921 quality—at 1921 prices.

DRY ENFORCEMENT RUNS INTO BIG SNAG

Alleged Liquor Law Violators Are Demanding Trials Before Juries.

By E. M. Thier
(Special to Post-Crescent)
New York—The supreme test of prohibition is being made in New York.
The Big Town is nearer being dry now than ever in history.
A new state enforcement law has put a bite and a sting into the Volstead act. Police, 11,000 strong, are enforcing prohibition. Sixty arrests are being made daily.
John A. Leach, deputy police commissioner, is chief of the dry forces. Three federal enforcement chiefs had failed to make New York dry before Leach tackled the job.
Police Commissioner Enright has ordered that the new state law, put through by Governor Miller, be rigidly enforced.
If the police do not enforce it the governor has threatened to remove them. They fear Governor Miller—for Miller is one official who hasn't much use for Mayor Hylan or Tammany, and doesn't care who knows it.

Difficulty Looms
But—the city isn't bone dry yet. The wets haven't given up hope, and the dries aren't celebrating.
The 11,000 policemen may be hunting down the liquor sellers and drinkers. But after they get them they don't know what to do with them!
Jury trials! That's the answer.
We'll have to have a draft law to get enough jurors," complains the district attorney's office.
If they keep on arresting liquor law violators everybody who isn't under arrest will be on a liquor jury.
Demon statisticians figure that the average number of jurors empaneled to get 12 good men and true is 230. At this rate figuring on 60 arrests a day, New York will have to employ 13,000 jurymen for liquor trials every day.
Wets are chortling over figures. Joab H. Banton, assistant district attorney, has dug up on old cases.
"During 10 years ending Dec 31, 1917," said Banton, "there were 16,197 arrests for liquor law violations. Of these, 9,322 were tried before judges and 5,366 were convicted—more than one in every two cases.
"But, of the remaining 6,275 cases, there were only 62 convictions. That's only one in every 100!"
Leach isn't worrying about these figures. His orders are to arrest liquor violators.
The Anti-Saloon League promises to assist Leach.

STRANGLER LEWIS HAS BABY PRODIGY

Infant "Phenom" Is Reared by Champion Wrestler and His Wife.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
San Jose, Cal.—From a four-pound baby at birth, little Bobada Lewis in nine months has become a 17-pound, healthy, laughing, talking, walking miss.
That's due to the scientific methods of training administered by Bobada's parents, Ed "Strangler" Lewis, world's champion wrestler, and Dr. Ada Scott Morton Lewis, physician and surgeon.
Miss Bobada's shoulders are well developed, she has strength enough in arm and hands to cling to the miniature turning-bar her father has erected for her, her legs are strong enough to permit her to walk, she is able to say not only simple words but to join words together such as "quit that," "want meat," and "take walk."

Baby's Training
A day at the Lewis home is a revelation. Bobada rises at six and is bathed and dressed by a nurse. Seated at the table for breakfast the baby tackles a bowl of wheat cereal. Then comes bacon grease, and then goes the milk—out of a glass.
After the breakfast Bobada goes with her father on a long country run. She doesn't run, of course—she goes in an "Indian Blanket," made of a blanket with hoops in each end which "The Strangler" carries in his hand or tossed over his shoulder. Often, on these runs, he stops in the barber shop for a shave. Bobada waits patiently, hung from a hook on the hat rack.
Ten o'clock brings more goat's milk, then a nap. At 12 her noonday meal, which is the same as breakfast except that rare broiled beefsteak is substituted for bacon grease.
In the afternoon Lewis plays with and trains Bobada, either in the training quarters or out-of-doors. Al ready she is able to grasp the bar and raise herself two inches from the floor swinging back and forth.
"We are not trying to raise a prodigy," says Lewis, "but are simply trying to bring up Bobada in a sensible, healthy way."

DAVIS ACQUITTED OF MURDERING PARENTS

By United Press Leased Wire
Rensselaer, Ind.—It took a jury just twenty minutes Thursday to acquit Ralph Davis of the charge of murdering his aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Davis. The jury went out at 10:28.
Two ballots were taken one juror on the first ballot voting "guilty."
The remains of Davis' parents were found in the ruins of their cottage after a fire.
The state charged that young Davis killed his parents when his father refused to make good $1,400 that the former is alleged to have embezzled while he was secretary of the New town county farm federation.
The indictment for the alleged theft of the money still stands against Davis.
Alex Sauter returned Wednesday evening from Rochester, Minn., where he submitted to an operation at the Mayo hospital. His condition is greatly improved.
Frank Heinzen has returned from a business trip to Chicago.

WANTS TO ARRANGE NEW SET OF WORKING RULES

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—E. M. Jewell asked the United States railroad labor board Thursday not to order cuts in the wages of common labor until a new set of working agreements could be drawn up between railroad employees and employers.
Jewell closed the case of the shop crafts before the board, in the hearing of employees who are contesting the petition of the railroads for permission to slash wages of common labor.
The four big brotherhoods are to start presenting their case against wage cuts for train service tonight.
Warren S. Stone, W. G. Lee, W. D. Carter, and L. E. Sheppard, brotherhood heads, are to argue their cases before the board.

HOME BUILDING IS INCREASING IN U. S.

Lower Rentals Is Sure to Be Result of Boom in House Construction.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—Building of homes and apartments is beginning to boom generally throughout the United States, according to reports to the federal reserve board.
A reduction in the level of rents will be the certain result from relief in the housing shortage, officials said Wednesday. This does not mean that rents will drop immediately. The nation is now five years behind its normal building program and approximately 1,250,000 dwellings short, according to data collected by the government. This shortage cannot be reduced in a few months. But the sooner building contractors begin to eat away at the housing congestions by increased construction, the sooner will relief come to the American family pocketbook, it is pointed out.
In New England and three large cities, more than $64,000,000 worth of building was contracted for in March alone, according to the federal reserve board reports. This was an 84 per cent increase for New England, a 40 per cent increase for New York where the building total was given as $29,546,000, an increase of 57 per cent for San Francisco where the value of the contracts was $18,543,000 and almost as large a percentage of increase for Minneapolis where the value was $2,648,000.
In Kansas City, the number of permits increased 100 per cent in March as compared with February while Atlanta reported an increase of 50 per cent.

CHURCH WELCOMES 175 NEW MEMBERS

Permanent Reception Plans Are Made at Congregational Church.

About 175 persons who joined the first Congregational church within the last few months were guests of the congregation at a reception in the church parlors Thursday evening. An enjoyable program was conducted and light refreshments were served.

A permanent reception plan was adopted for future years. The group of new members was named the "class of 1921" and organized itself so these people may arrange a reception next spring for the "class of 1922." Elmer Jennings was elected chairman of the 1921 members and Miss Naomi Clarke, secretary.

Some of the new members were of the teen age and were entertained in the basement rooms by a group of church young people. They were summoned upstairs later to hear several brief talks and were served with refreshments.

Each new member was given a badge of one color with his name written upon it, and each old member a badge of another color. Large posters designated which was the new and which was the old member. This plan served to acquaint all those who attended. Dr. E. Peabody, pastor, spoke briefly, mentioning the unusual fact that about five-sixths of the new members were received on confession of faith rather than by letter from other churches.

Dr. J. S. Reeve welcomed the men, Mrs. B. W. Wells the women and P. J. Harwood, superintendent of the Sunday school, the younger group. Lee C. Rasey responded for the new members.

NO CHANGE WILL BE MADE IN PARK BOARD THIS YEAR

Alicia Park Soon to Be Converted Into Ideal Tourists Camp Site.

No change will be made this season in the park commission which consists of Fred Felix Wettengel, Dr. E. H. Brooks and Philip Weitenbach. The appointment of a new commission to consist of five members, one of whom was to be a woman, under a new law now in effect in some of the larger cities was turned down at the council meeting Wednesday after the provisions were read by one of the aldermen. The commission will be provided with funds to make necessary improvements and in all probability a comfort station will be erected in the city park.

Nothing has been done towards converting Alicia park into a tourists' camping ground. Capt. George McKel, who will be in charge, will occupy Much interest centers around the Wisconsin Industrial conference which opens here Monday and continues for three days, because of the comprehensive program and the able speakers who are to be here.

One of the biggest gatherings will be the safety massmeeting at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening in the First Congregational church. George P. Hambrecht, chairman of the Wisconsin Industrial commission, will preside. The speaker of the evening is Hon. George E. Mix, judge of the city court, St. Louis, Mo. His subject will be "Safety in Everyday Life." It is possible that the moving picture, "Women in Industry" also will be shown at this time because of the existing facilities. This meeting is to be free to every person in Appleton.

One phase of the industrial problem will be taken up at each morning, afternoon or evening session. They

A shed which will be used for cooking meals when the weather is unfavorable for outside cooking will be moved to a convenient location. The park will be drained and the entrance on Outagamie-st. will be put in first class condition. The other entrance is on Mason-st.

EQUIP ALICIA PARK FOR BOY SCOUT CAMP

Alicia park will be equipped for overnight and weekend camping of boy scouts through arrangements completed by the camp committee of Appleton. Boy Scout council at a meeting Wednesday evening in scout headquarters. Use of the park was granted recently by the city council and is to be equipped by May 14.

Pup tents will be provided for scouts as sleeping quarters except in bad weather, when the cabin will be used. These tents also will be used at the summer camp for overnight hikes away from the camp proper. The cabin is to be used as an assembly room.

Further plans also were made for the summer camp by the committee. E. R. Henderson, scout executive, will be camp director, and Chris Mullen has been appointed assistant. Commissary arrangements were discussed.

APPLETON MEN TO MAKE SPECIALTY MACHINERY

Withdrawing from active management of the Yankee Paper and specialty company Menasha, A. Harvey and H. C. Harvey, 674 Rankin st., will engage in the design and construction of paper specialty machinery, although retaining their interest in the Menasha company.

SALESMEN GUESTS OF C. OF C. TONIGHT

Short talks will be given by several salesman who attend the chamber of commerce forum banquet at 6:30 Friday evening in Northwestern hotel. Musical numbers and singing also will be features of the gathering.

Reservations received up to noon Friday indicate that there will be a large attendance. Frank B. White, the speaker, is expected to arrive during the afternoon. He is an advertising expert and announces his intention to remain overnight to confer with persons who wish to discuss this subject.

AUTO RIDERS REMOVING BARRICADES ON ROADS

Greinke Bros., who have the contract for paving the asylum road, report that automobile drivers are paying little attention to notices to the effect that the highway is closed by order of the county highway commissioner and even to barricades which are often removed, and are thereby laying themselves liable to a fine of not to exceed $100. Last Sunday the barricade was repeatedly removed and

Pity the Blind Man

Some days you'll see him, slowly, hesitatingly, feeling his way. At other times he has a guide who quickly leads him where he wants to go.

When you shop without advance knowledge of where to go to get the best, you are feeling your way.

The advertisements in the newspapers are guides. They will tell you where to go to get the best—quickly.

And they are a guarantee of satisfaction. The consistent advertiser pays money to tell you about his goods. He knows they are good—he backs them with his money because he believes they'll satisfy. Only merchandise which is consistently good can be consistently advertised.

Read the advertisements and buy the advertised products. Don't spend your money blindly. Get dollar's worth for a dollar by buying products that have proved their worth under the glare of publicity.

POLICE ARREST 3 APPLETON BOYS IN BED AT ESCANABA

Harry LaFond and Poetzel Boys
Wanted Here in Connection With Crimes.

Harry LaFond, Carl and Edward Poetzel, three Appleton youths, were pulled out of bed at the home of a relative in Escanaba, Mich., about 1:30 this morning by Chief of Police George T. Prim, Detective John Duval and Driver Albert Deltgen, to answer to charges of being implicated in a series of holdups and robberies in Appleton recently. They are wanted particularly to explain their connection with the holdup of William Krieg, Neenah taxicab driver, theft of an automobile from Herman Kramp of Neenah and burglary of Armory G. Two other young men said to be members of the gang, Roman LaFond and James Gruenes, now are in the county jail here.

Harry LaFond and the Poetzel boys smelled a rat when Roman LaFond and Gruenes were arrested and immediately left town. Police spread a dragnet but could not find traces of the youngsters until yesterday afternoon. The officers left here at 4 o'clock in an automobile, reaching Escanaba at 1:30 this morning and returned to Appleton about 8:30. The arrest of the three boys is believed to result in breaking up entirely the crime gang which has caused considerable trouble to the police department. They will be arraigned in court Saturday morning. Roman LaFond and Gruenes were held in jail pending the arrest of the other boys.

It was said a partial confession has been extracted from the two boys arrested first and that these confessions implicated the other three.

Nearly Half of Honor Roll Students at High School
Are Freshmen.

Out of 45 students in the high school whose names appear on the honor roll for last quarter's school work, 22 are freshmen, 9 are juniors, 8 are sophomores and 6 are seniors. There are just 20 students on the "A" honor roll, 8 of whom are freshmen. The first year class also leads the school in numbers on the "B" honor roll.

Those whose work entitled them to a place on the "A" honor roll are: Seniors—Florence Dillon, Lorna Packard, Geraldine Rammer and Frank Van Wyk.

Juniors—Maurine Cahill and Lucille Klunko.

Sophomores—Alden Behnke, Helen Dierich, Mary Kanouse, Ina Kreiss, Katherine Pratt and Dorothy Ralph.

Freshmen—Anona Bergman, Carl Engler, Dorothy Murphy, Mildred Ruhl, Carl Thompson, Marie Voecks, Mildred Zschachner and Harold Zuehlke.

The "B" honor roll consists of the following:

COUNTY WINS SUIT BROUGHT BY RADIES

The jury in the case of Leo Radies vs. Outagamie county and Greunke Bros. in circuit court found the county and contractors guilty of no want of ordinary care in putting up signs and barriers on the highway that was being improved and also found the plaintiff guilty of contributory negligence. The action was brought to recover damages to a car that came in contact with a barrier on the Kimberly-Little Chute road.

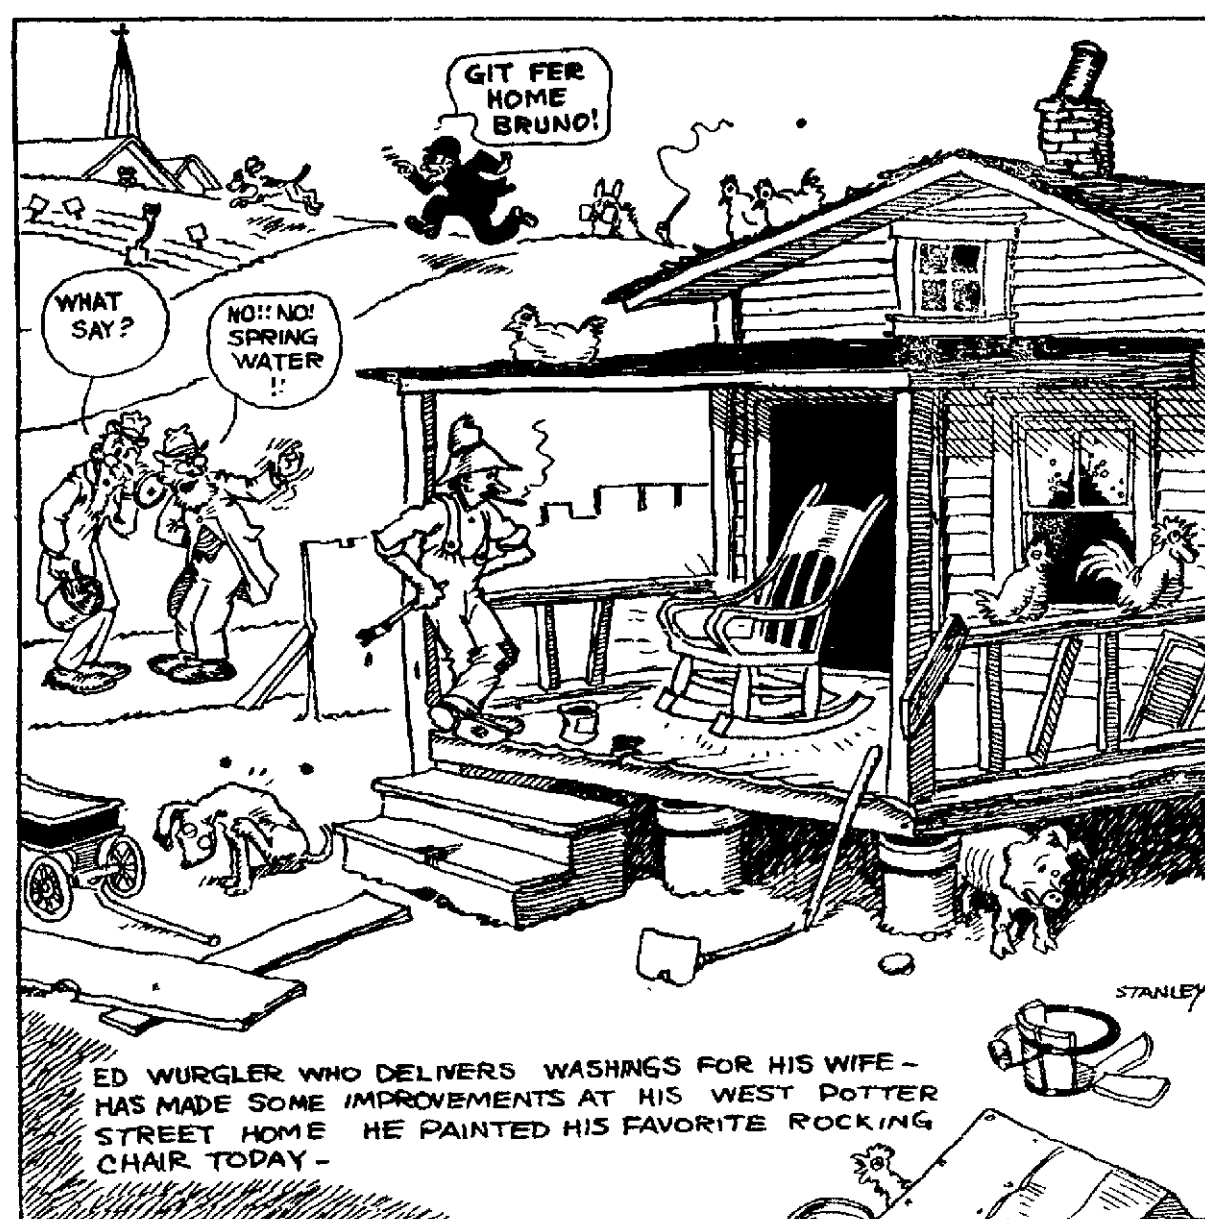

The attorneys in the case of Fred Spaay vs. Henry Van Camp, which went to trial Thursday afternoon completed their arguments to the jury shortly before noon and a recess was taken until 1:30 o'clock at which time the jury will receive its instructions from the court.

Another case will be taken up Friday afternoon, but an announcement was made as to which one it would be.

A daughter was born at Maternity hospital Thursday evening to Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Hayes, North Division-st.

AGED VETERAN SPEAKS TO K. OF C. MEMBERS

An enjoyable address on "Keep Your Head" was delivered at the regular meeting of the Knights of Columbus in K. of C. hall Thursday evening by Mr. Thompson of Kentucky, who is making a brief business visit here. Mr. Thompson is 79 years old and is a veteran of the civil war, serving in the Confederate army. He said he had a son in the Spanish-American war and a grandson in the World War. Some valuable advice was given by Mr. Thompson concerning religious matters and contact with fellow men.

SEEK ROOMS IN HOMES FOR COMING CONFERENCE

Rooms in private homes may be needed by some of the delegates to the Wisconsin Industrial conference in session here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Two thousand and invitations have been sent out by the industrial commission to manufacturers, superintendents, employment managers, service workers, safety engineers, physicians, nurses and others, and indications are that the hotel facilities will be overtaxed.

Secretary Hugh G. Corbett has been asked to secure a list of rooms available in homes during the 3 day period, in case the hotels are overcrowded. Such persons are to telephone the office of the chamber, No. 2701.

Phonograph Talks

No. 4—Beauty of Design

ANY Dalion you hear—even once—will settle the all-important question of tone. Dalion is, first of all, a musical instrument.

But realize this, too: each of the nine Dalion models is a perfect piece of furniture. Skilful cabinet design. Truly beautiful woodwork and finish.

The beauty of outward dress seen in all Dalion instruments is but one of many truly notable features found in this line. Briefly:

The ingenious auto-file (exclusive with Dalion) automatically prevents the mis-filing of any record, the cabinet virtually handing you the record of your choice, and presenting the rightful compartment for its return. Another record may not be taken until the record just played is back in place.

Of the Dalion motor's stability we need only say this: the makers guarantee it against spring breakage. We are always glad to have anyone inspect the inner mechanism of this splendid phonograph. Its simple efficiency of motor and other parts will interest you. "See how it works."

Don't buy a phonograph until you have heard, seen and examined a Dalion. Of course it plays all makes of records.

"There's where the Adlon cigar proves its quality, sir."

"How do you figure that, George?"

"Well, sir, here's the reason: All tobacco leaf contains certain extraneous 'gums'. Unless they're removed they cause an 'off taste' in the cigar. They're drawn to the mouth-end, where they accumulate. When the 'gums' are present, you find the last stages of your smoke anything but enjoyable."

"Adlon cigars have none of these 'gums'. They're removed by an exclusive process before the cigars are rolled. This is a real discovery in cigar-making—an Adlon distinction."

"There's nothing in Adlon, then, to impair its quality, George?"

"Absolutely nothing! The rich flavor and aroma of Adlon and its mildness hold to the very end."

"The fillers, sir, come from the best Cuban plantations. The wrapper is imported from Sumatra."

"The delightful blending of these tobaccos is a secret of Adlon goodness. It took many years of research and some 500 separate tobacco tests to develop this blend. I know because I've spent a life-time in the cigar business. I served my apprenticeship at the cigar-maker's bench."

"Is Adlon your favorite smoke, George?"

"Always! I consider it the best cigar-value, in quality and quantity, I've ever discovered. It's my ideal of a real smoke."

You can get Adlon—the best cigar you can buy—from any good dealer.

GOOD BASEBALL IS ASSURED IN VALLEY LEAGUE THIS YEAR

Every Team in the Circuit Is Prepared for Real Chase After Pennant.

As the date for opening games of the Fox River Valley league season approaches the conviction grows stronger and stronger that Appleton will have to "step out" if it wishes to cop the valley championship this year. Every team in the league, including Appleton, is loaded for bear and the quality of baseball promises to be much better than a year ago.

Team owners have learned that fans will support a winner and all are determined to win. If the teams are closely bunched in the pennant race it will mean all will have good support and that is what the magnates are striving for.

Other cities haven't said much about "all home product" teams this year. Appleton probably will have as many home boys on the team as any squad in the league. This means more interest at home if the team wins. Fans often say they don't care if a team wins or not so long as they see good baseball and home boys in action but just the same when a team is in a slump attendance falls off.

With Woods on third base, completing the Brandt lineup, Appleton lovers of the game will have a chance to see how the team stacks up when it plays the Calgary Black Sox here Sunday afternoon. If Woods does as well as is expected there will be no more changes before the opening of the season with Kimberly May 15.

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS

It's a funny thing how much exertion a man will submit to if it is labeled play. Take volleyball, for instance. If the dozens of men who play that game in the Y. M. C. A. were compelled to take as much exercise in some other way as they get in volleyball they would have given up in disgust a long time ago. Competition however, whets their appetites for more and it would be a revelation to lots of Appleton folks to see some of the city's 40 and 50 year old businessmen cavort on the volleyball court. It keeps them in condition and provides a wholesome recreation which is a mental as well as physical stimulus.

Evidently all is not serene in the Athletics camp. Scott Perry, one of the "Aces" of Mack's pitching staff, has been suspended for two weeks and fined $100 for breaking training rules. Connie is a stickler for good behavior and he won't stand for any of his players playing tag under the bright lights. From the way the White Sox phenoms have been slipping, it would lead one to believe that some of the other members of the squad have turned night owls.

Ty Cobb has come back into his glory and Detroit is going wild over the way the Tigers are traveling in the American league race. Cobb has built up a harmony outfit and every one of his men, younglings and veterans alike, are working together in a baseball machine. What's more, Cobb obliets are hitting the old pill right on the nose and, if they can get a good brand of pitching, Navin's club will be right up among the topnotchers in the race for the flag in Ban Johnson's circuit.

They don't get enough of bowling in Oshkosh during the winter months so the Sawdust city spillers have organized a summer bowling league. By this move the maples will be kept in use the whole year round. This should prove rather popular to the alley owners. Incidentally, we noticed that the B. V. D.'s are listed among the summer bowlers. Rather appropriate after all.

Speaking of combats, page Freddie Welsh. The veteran celebrated his re-appearance in the ring by putting the skids under Kid Murphy in the second round of a scheduled ten round bout at Morristown, N. J. The former champ cut loose with a lot of his old pep and it is said that he looked still able to give some of the present day fighters quite a battle. Welsh has been running a health resort for a couple of years and maybe he has found the fountain of youth.

Insider Says

Tex Rickard thinks the N. B. A. stands for "Not Bad Advertising."

Dempsey doesn't ask sparring partners to pull their punches.

Baseball dope still continues to be ham and scrambled.

Carpenter estimates the Big Mill will go 6 rounds now. His courage has raised 2 rounds.

When a fan hollers at a batter to "Come on!" All the pitcher's got is a fast ball and a curve," he's said a mouthful.

Babe Adams retains his punch longer than most fighters.

Frank Frisch can play a tune on the fiddle as well as around second base.

George Kelly of the Giants batted safely in 13 games. Jinxed!

Players who kick usually kick themselves clear into the clubhouse.

Cobb and Sisler are batting in the beginners' class.

NEW JERSEY FIGHT WILL BE BATTLE OF 'FIGHTING FREAKS'

Johnny Kilbane Declares Heavy-weight Scrappers Do Not Follow "Hoyle."

(Following is the first of a series of articles on the Dempsey-Carpenter fight in Jersey City, July 2, by Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion of the world. Kilbane knows the fight game from A to Z and will give Post-Crescent readers his impressions of the heavyweights.)

By Johnny Kilbane

The Dempsey-Carpenter fight at Jersey City on July 2 will be a battle between "fighting freaks."

But these freaks are respectively the ruggedest and the cleverest in the world. This will make it a bout the like of which has never before been seen in a championship fight.

It'll be weight and strength against brains and speed, with science in the discard.

The fight won't be as picturesque as the heavy battles of the past. I don't mean by that it won't be an interesting fight for the fans; it will be packed with punches! To me it will be of more interest than any heavy weight belt battle of recent years.

Always

Every amateur heavy who has copied the title since the days of John L. Sullivan has "fought according to Hoyle." By that I mean that his offensive tactics were those that other boxers used.

Every variety of wallop that the heavyweight sent over was from a certain position. To get set for a wallop he had to jockey himself into position.

His opponent could guess, to a large degree, what was coming in time to cover. Surprise didn't figure very strongly. Rather it was necessary to first weaken and break down the opponent's defense before the kayo wallop could be slipped over.

Corbett, Bob Fitzsimmons and the others who in turn won the heavy weight title were all this type of fighter, who stood in position and swapped blow for blow.

Jack Dempsey

Then along came Jack Dempsey with ring tactics all his own. Awkward and unscientific, but with a world of power and stamina, Dempsey was interested only in getting close enough to an opponent to land the haymaker that would chalk up another kayo.

Ring strategy went by the boards. Dempsey paid no attention to precedent. He started his punches from any and all positions, shooting them over in this way at times when his opponent least expected them. He packs a knockout in either fist and shifts at will to meet an attack.

Style Dangerous

Couple Dempsey's two-handed fighting style with his opponent's ability to do his intentions and you've got a mighty dangerous combination. For a shift from left to right hand gives Dempsey a big advantage. Few of the classy fighters can fight other than with their left hand. A right-handed fighter is awkward for them to handle—and to hit.

And Dempsey's ability to make the shift at will gives him this advantage at any time during a fight that he cares to take it.

Knockout Brown was a right-handed fighter, and his string of kayoes testifies to what I mean.

George Chaney, whom I fought at Cedar Point, and K. O. Mars, whom I met at Cincinnati, were the same kind of boxers—the most dangerous kind of opponents because, owing to their apparently awkward style, they were likely at any second to get across a blow that would wind up a fight in a hurry.

The value of Dempsey's surprise style of fighting is shown by the fact that even before he put Willard away at Toledo he had knocked out 20 men in the first round and had a dozen other knockouts to his credit.

Willard, on paper, should have won the Toledo affair. But he was puzzled by Dempsey's style, just as every other boxer is puzzled in trying to do the man who doesn't stick to the usual methods.

Thus Dempsey won his title by freak fighting.

Carp Like Cat

Carpenter has risen to the championship of France by freak fighting of an altogether different nature. Trained in the European school of open fighting—judo—is practically unknown over there—Georges has developed such agility in rushing, hitting and getting away that in the ring he reminds a person of nothing so much as a cat.

Into his opponent one second with a bullet-like one-two punch, he is crouched on the floor like a shadow the next while an adversary's swing goes harmlessly over him. Points pile up the points; that has been the Frenchman's method always.

Frenchman's Chance

Carpenter's chance in this fight will be in using his flashy speed to rain blows in so fast on Dempsey that Jack won't have a chance to get set or to get his wallowers into action.

Dempsey's job will be to get the Frenchman into a corner and then make him miss a punch.

The Jersey battle will be more than a fight for the heavyweight championship.

It will be a bout to determine which is the better style of freak fighting—that which made Carpenter the champion of France or that which gave Dempsey, after a knockout tour, the world title.

Fond du Lac Old Timers

Those in the above picture and their ages are: Left to right—J. A. W. Hille, 69; A. E. Klock, 53; Dr. W. H. Folsom, 50; E. L. Mendenhall, 56; (Seated in center) H. I. Collins, 59; The Rev. W. P. Leek, 58; Robert Zinke, 68.

"Plenty of time to be stiff after you are dead" is the slogan of these Fond du Lac "old timers" who will meet the Appleton "Sixty year-olds" in volleyball games Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. The men will be guests at the interchurch banquet which is to be held that evening. Following the banquet Appleton and Fond du Lac will fight for honors on the volleyball court.

This group of business and professional men, who are members of the Fondy Y. M. C. A. volleyball classes, are demonstrating the fact that the passing of the half century mark is no bar to play.

Captain Mendenhall, who was a baseball pitcher for a team in Kansas, and is now professor at the County Training school, is responsible for the organization of the "Old Timers" team.

These men may be seen at the Y. M. C. A. two or three times a week in regular league games in which every point is fought for with a vim and dash that would make some of their younger brothers sit up and take notice.

HILL EXPECTS TO ARRIVE ON TUESDAY

Grappler Says Cold Weather Is Giving Him More Time to Get in Shape.

George Hill, who wrestles Yusuf Mahmoud here next Tuesday night, will not arrive in Appleton until the afternoon of the battle according to letters received here Thursday.

Hill says cold weather has interfered with his carnival, giving him more time to get into condition. He stated further that he has never been in better shape in his life.

That means that Appleton people will see a really wonderful battle. Mahmoud surely will be in shape because he realizes that much hinges on the outcome of his match here. If he loses to Hill he loses with it the chance to meet the topnotchers in the game.

Hill's reputation is spreading to all parts of the country. Wrestlers who a few months ago considered him as a rank outsider now concede him to be one of the real stars on the mat.

The advance ticket sale indicates a large attendance. If country roads are in any kind of a condition there will be an immense representation of fans from surrounding towns who want to see the two stars in action.

The fact that this will be the last chance to see a mat battle this year also will induce many fans to part with their ducats for admission tickets.

Hill will wind up his work at Chicago Heights, he has advised friends here. He is now at Gary, Ind., but expects to be at the Heights in a few days.

FABER'S PITCHING WINS FOR WHITE SOX

Champions Get Only Two Hits While His Teammates Crash in Four Runs.

Cleveland, O.—Faber's pitching and Sheely's batting gave Chicago a 4 to 0 victory over Cleveland on Thursday.

Faber held the world's champions to two hits and no runs at Chicago last week. On Thursday he duplicated his feat. Cleveland's first hit was a double by Speaker in the seventh inning, while Jamieson scratched an infield hit in the ninth.

Score: Chicago.....0 2 0 1 0 0 0—4 Cleveland.....0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 Batteries: Chicago—Faber and Schalk; Cleveland—Bagby and O'Neil.

guard who replaced him was wild and gave way to Brenton, who stopped the rally. The batting of Bohne and Hargrave and the former's steal of home after tripling in the third inning were features. Score:

Cincinnati.....3 2 0 0 1 0 0—11 Chicago.....0 0 0 1 0 0 3—7 Batteries: Cincinnati—Liquori, Marquard, Brenton and Hargrave (Chicago)—Hanson, Cheever, Jones, Bailey and O'Farrell and Killifer.

ERRORS WIN FOR PIRATES

Pittsburg—Pittsburg defeated the St. Louis Cardinals in their first game here on Thursday, 8 to 3. Cooper kept his opponents' hits scattered and while Pereria pitched good ball, his own misplay and those of Hornsby and Purnier were costly. Rain fell during the contest and the outfielders misjudged several balls hit into their territory which went for safe hits.

Score: St. Louis.....1 0 0 1 0 1 0 0—3 Pittsburg.....0 0 0 3 0 1 4 0—8 Batteries: St. Louis—Pereria, North and Duhaer, Pittsburg—Cooper and Schoultz.

DOZEN BLUEBLOODS AWAIT RACE START

Expect New Records Will Be Made in Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs.

Louisville, Ky.—A dozen blue blooded thoroughbreds will start Saturday in the $50,000 Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs.

Training performances and some actual racing on the part of those eligible has reduced the field. It was reported.

There were 109 nominations made for the race but a mere dozen may answer when the bugle calls the field to the post. The starters probably will be Harry Payne Whitney's Tryster and Prudery; Xlax Farm Leonardo II and Don Homme; E. R. Bradley's Black Servant and Behave Yourself; W. J. Salmon's Careful; Harned Brothers' Coyne; C. A. Stoneham's Billy Barton; Baker and Moore's Uncle Volo; Bud Fisher's Muskallong; J. K. L. Rose's Star Voter, and P. A. Clark's Nancy Lee.

Gray Lag was eliminated late Thursday following a fast workout. He pulled up lame.

Smart Turfmen believe the derby lies among Tryster, Prudery, Leonardo and Careful. Leonardo gave another dazzling exhibition of speed Thursday when he worked a mile in 1:38 3/4. The track probably will be fast in which a new record for the mile and a quarter may be forthcoming. The world's record for that distance now is held by Hourless, made in a match race with Omar Khayam at Laurel.

Watching The Scoreboard

Thursday's hero—Red Faber. The White Sox hurler pitched his second two hit game of the season against Cleveland and won, 4 to 0.

Six hits in the sixth inning, one a homer by Cobb, gave Detroit six runs. The Browns lost, 9 to 0.

Sam Bohne tripled in the third inning and stole home. The Reds beat the Cubs, 11 to 7.

Loose playing by Hornsby and Fournier helped Pittsburg beat the Cards, 8 to 3.

Borcas crabbled all other games.

MILK CONDENSERS MAY BE FORCED TO GET OUT OF STATE

Assembly Engrasses Bill Prohibiting Use of Fat Compounds in Milk.

Madison—The Wisconsin condensers lost in the initial battle over "filled milk" Thursday in the assembly. By a vote of 72 to 6, the lower house ordered to engrass the committee on agriculture bill prohibiting the manufacture or sale of evaporated or condensed milk containing coconut oil or other foreign fats.

Nine large condensaries having a world wide market for the milk compound will be put out of business or forced to leave the state if the bill becomes a law, according to state members made during the debate on the measure.

The Ingalls subamendment requiring all milk compounds to be labeled "filled milk" was rejected by a vote of 30 to 60.

The question of requiring Wisconsin manufacturers of woolsens and leather goods to label the percentage of new wool, shoddy, cotton and silk in woolsens, leather goods and other ingredients in leather goods was rejected in the assembly Thursday by a vote of 50 to 35.

The senate ended the anti-smaltpox vaccination campaign, waged since early in the session when it killed the Peltier bill repealing compulsory vaccination among school children by a vote of 20 to 9.

The bill had passed the assembly.

Council Meeting
 The common council will hold an adjourned meeting at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening in the city hall for the purpose of letting sewer contracts and the contract for several hundred feet of hose and for the disposal of any other business that may come before the meeting.

Debate of the subject occupied two hours. The bill was denounced on one side as a trade war carried to the legislature and praised on the other side as a welfare measure protecting the lives and health of the babies of the land.

The common council will hold an adjourned meeting at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening in the city hall for the purpose of letting sewer contracts and the contract for several hundred feet of hose and for the disposal of any other business that may come before the meeting.

NEW DICTIONARY IS READY FOR READERS

This is the opening day of the Post-Crescent's distribution of The New Universities Dictionary to its readers.

Three coupons clipped from the columns of this paper must be presented at our office with the application for one of the volumes. It is specified that these be from papers of three different days. Therefore, today is the first day for the completion of the first set. A small fee of 95 cents is required, the only condition asked of those who seek one of these excellent educational books.

For out-of-town traders of this paper a special mail arrangement has been made. These may send in the three coupons by mail, to gether with the 95 cents and the necessary postage to pay mailing charges on the dictionary. For their benefit, instructions are given elsewhere as to the amount of postage necessary. This is done so that all readers of this paper may share in the distribution of The New Universities.

Paving Benefits
 The board of public works held a hearing in the city hall Friday morning for the purpose of assessing benefits and damages of the property abutting on streets to be paved the present summer. Owners of the property were given an opportunity to be heard, but less than a dozen were present.

GUERNSEY SALE GETS BIG START

Large Attendance Marks Opening of Biggest Dairy Event Ever Held Here.

Resembling circus day with the large pavilion tent and farmers coming from all over this locality in automobiles, the first annual consignment sale of the Fox River Valley Guernsey Breeders' association got off to a good start at 12:30 Friday afternoon at the Outagamie Equity exchange grounds.

Everything was in readiness, with all cows stabled in the cabbage warehouse ready to be taken before the auctioneer. Indications were that attendance would exceed all expectations because of the warm weather and the excellent condition of the roads.

 Col. J. R. Love and Mr. Benjamin of Waukesha, auctioneers, and Charles L. Hill, Rosendale, sale director, arrived here Thursday evening from Waupaca, where they conducted the Guernsey county sale. One of the busiest men Friday morning was Paul O. Nyhus, farm agent of the First National bank, who is manager of the sale.
 Buyers spent part of the morning examining the cows, heifers and bulls listed in the sale catalogue. Some of the most valuable Guernseys in the county will change hands, and a number of farmers will acquire high producing purebreds for the first time.

American films comprise 90 per cent of those shown in England.
 Time and Tide is the title of a London newspaper owned entirely by women.

LAST COMMUNITY SHOW OF SEASON

Congregational Church Officers Pleased With Success of Friday Matinees.

Concluding a season in which hundreds of adults and children have seen wholesome moving pictures, the last of the community day events of the First Congregational church will be held Friday afternoon for children and Friday evening for adults.

The congregational auditorium has been packed each week for the performances in which movies have been shown, starring some of the most prominent actors. Each picture has been censored the day before it is shown by a group of members of the church, to make sure that the picture contained nothing immoral or misleading. Once or twice during the season the performance was called off entirely because the pictures were regarded as unfit.

With agitation abroad all over the country for censorship of the movies, the church has adopted this novel way of solving the problem. Parents have felt safe in sending their children to the afternoon matinee, knowing that the pictures were wholesome. The pictures also were up to the standard of those shown in leading theaters from an artistic standpoint.

Community gatherings will be resumed early next fall and will be conducted along the same lines as this season.

cause the Ninth Regiment band to lose one of its able and important players, Alexander Casadonte, clarinetist. Mr. Casadonte is a bench hand in the machinist trade and has been laid off. The chamber of commerce has been appealed to find another place for this musician so it will not be necessary for him to leave Appleton.

"I hope somebody will step in and help us keep this man here," said Secretary Hugh G. Corbett. "Our band has been built up to a high standard and we want to keep it there, but this cannot be done if we let any of our musicians go. I understand the men the band can spare the least are the reed instrument players."

Firms having positions open are to notify the chamber of commerce or Mike Steinhauer.

Discuss Festival Plans
Progress on preparations for the June festival of the Catholic Order of Foresters and the Ladies Auxiliary was checked up at a meeting of the joint committee Thursday evening in Forester home. Various committees looking after arrangements, decorations, refreshments and other matters made their reports. Indications are the festival will be an elaborate event. It will be held June 1 at Forester home.

GREEN BAY GIRL SOUGHT IN RIVER

Green Bay—Although the parents of Henrietta Schneider have not given up hope of finding the missing 16 year old high school girl who disappeared a week ago, the police have practically decided to search the river for the body if no news has been received by Sunday.

The two factors which would make it appear she had carried out her threat to end her life are that she had no money or clothing for a trip from the city and further that even though she might have gone to another city she must have seen the accounts of the search for her and hardly would be able to withstand the appeal of her mother, overcome by the shock that she return to her home and forgiveness.

If the girl chose the river it is believed her body must by now be in Green bay where it is expected soon to come to the surface and be discovered by fishermen.

E. W. Brandenburg of Milwaukee, state county work secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was a visitor at the Appleton Y. M. C. A. Thursday.

Tomorrow Offers Unusual Attractions for Shoppers in Every Department

It would be hard to remember a Saturday with as many attractions for shoppers in the store as tomorrow. Every department seems to have some one thing of special interest that must be seen Saturday. In some instances the special lots are limited in quantity and should be seen as early in the day as possible.

Wonderfully Pretty Ty-On Frocks in a Special Selling at $5.00

The genuine economy dress is here at last. A dress that is inexpensive enough to wear for housework if you wish and pretty enough to wear down town.

These dresses are made of good quality Japanese crepe in all of the new shades of apricot, gold, orchid, rose, Copenhagen, pink, tan, and pale blue. All have quaint trimmings of applied flowers, vari-colored.

Ty-on frocks are slipped on in a moment—for there are no buttons. Just a sash around the waist that ties in the back with a big bow. The neck is square and neck and sleeves are finished with white pipings around the edges. There are two pockets. All seams are double stitched and there is a six inch hem at the bottom.

All sizes are shown.

For Saturday these dresses will be $5. while they last.
